About Me →

Having grown up with my Gameboy color and the Paradise FM from Rockstar game, my passion for image and sound has never left me. Today it has become my job and I wish through each of my achievements to bring a new and creative look, supported by my various inspirations and experiences. Attracted by the cultural environment, I have collaborated with artists, labels, but also brands or agencies. These experiences allowed me to grow professionally and broaden my perspective on the various creative solutions that I hope to use today.
